MICE IN SUBWAY.

Straphanging Was Popular and Women Gave Up Their Seats.

New York, April 25.—Subway travelers were treated to a new variety of excitement last night when some boys, more mischievous than chivalrous, released a score of mice which they carried in a box in a crowded Broadway express train. Straphanging immediately became popular, particularly among a large number of women, as they saved themselves by chiming as in a gymnasium. With such feats and a near panic even among the men passengers, there was a wild stampede from the train as quick as the two mice run to the next station could be covered. The innocent mice had been trapped to death and the mischievous boys had escaped.

EXPLOSION KILLS TWO.

Went Off Accidentally While Working in Railroad Cut.

Arkansas City, Kan., April 25.—As the result of a premature explosion of dynamite in a cut being made on the Santa Fe at Cushing, Okla., two men are dead and four others badly injured. The dead men are:

GEORGE DOUGLAS of Yale, Okla.
E. L. BROWN of Cushing, laborers.
They are both white men. The injured are:

Brakeman D. H. Herbert of Guthrie, who had his head and one eye badly lacerated. His injuries may prove fatal, and he is sure to lose the eye.

The others who were injured are laborers, and none of them were seriously hurt. They are:

A. R. Lindsay,
J. A. Milshugh,
Pete Sheridan, all of Cushing.

The direct cause of the premature explosion probably will never be known, as the two men who were handling the fuses and the stick that exploded, were the two who lost their lives. The supposition is that Douglas and Brown had lighted a fuse and this fuse to the one attached to the stick of dynamite which they were setting ready for a blast.

The children of the city schools are enjoying a holiday today. The members of the schools were given a day off to attend the meeting of the Northeast Kansas Teachers' association or to visit schools in other cities. The majority of them are visiting schools in Kansas City, Lawrence, Manhattan and other places. There is little interest exhibited in the Northeast Kansas Teachers' association, and this will probably be the last meeting of the organization.

There was a heavy frost this morning which did damage to vegetation in the low lands. It is problematical as to whether or not the fruit was injured. The lowest temperature for the day was 37 degrees as recorded at the government station at an elevation. However, a thermometer on the Burlingame road near Topeka registered 39 degrees. That is a temperature sufficiently low to do much damage to vegetation. The green stuff on the high lands and in protected places did not suffer today. The weather forecast predicts frost tonight, but it will probably not be heavy.
